Perceived Stress Scale

A more precise measure of personal stress can be determined by using a variety of instruments that have been designed to help measure individual stress levels. The first of these is called the Perceived Stress Scale.

The Perceived Stress Scale (PSS) is a classic stress assessment instrument. The tool, while originally developed in 1983, remains a popular choice for helping us understand how different situations affect our feelings and our perceived stress. The questions in this scale ask about your feelings and thoughts during the last month. In each case, you will be asked to indicate how often you felt or thought a certain way. Although some of the questions are similar, there are differences between them and you should treat each one as a separate question. The best approach is to answer fairly quickly. That is, don't try to count up the number of times you felt a particular way; rather indicate the alternative that seems like a reasonable estimate.

For each question choose from the following alternatives:

0 - never 1 - almost never 2 - sometimes 3 - fairly often 4 - very often

 l. In the last month, how often have you been upset because of something that happened unexpectedly?
 2. In the last month, how often have you felt that you were unable to control the important things in your life?
 3. In the last month, how often have you felt nervous and stressed?
 4. In the last month, how often have you felt confident about your ability to handle your personal problems?
 5. In the last month, how often have you felt that things were going your way?
 6. In the last month, how often have you found that you could not cope with all the things that you had to do?
 7. In the last month, how often have you been able to control irritations in your life?
 8. In the last month, how often have you felt that you were on top of things?
 9. In the last month, how often have you been angered because of things that happened that were outside of your control?
 10. In the last month, how often have you felt difficulties were piling up so high that you could not overcome them?

Informed Consent Agreement for Laser Therapy

I understand that Laser Therapy is a safe and noninvasive treatment cleared by the FDA to emit energy on the infrared spectrum to provide topical healing. I further understand that there is no promise or guarantee regarding the results of the treatment, and that to achieve maximum clinical results, I may need multiple treatments. I understand that mild adverse reactions with normal treatment protocols may occur. Some patients may report increased pain after the initial treatment or within 24 hours. I am aware of the following safety requirements.

EYE SAFETY: I understand that Class IV Therapy Lasers emit both visible and invisible radiation. Protective eye-wear is necessary at all times during the treatment. I will not remove the Safety Goggles until the administrator of the laser has turned off the laser treatment and provided notification that it is safe. I will remove all reflective objects, such as rings, metal watchbands, and jewelry prior to treatment with the laser, to avoid reflective surfaces. I will never look directly into the end of the laser therapy hand piece.

Informed Consent Agreement for Evaluation and Therapeutic Care

Evaluation and therapeutic care, including chiropractic, functional neurology, physical medicine, nutrition, and massage, like all forms of healthcare, while offering considerable benefit may also provide some level of risk. This level of risk is often very minimal, yet in rare cases injury has been associated with evaluation and therapeutic care. Complications that have been reported secondary to evaluation and therapeutic care include skin, muscle and/or nerve irritations, and/or injury. One of the rarest complications associated with chiropractic care, in particular, occurring at a rate of between one instance per 1 million, to one instance per 2 million cervical spine (neck) adjustments may be vertebral artery injury that could lead to a stroke. Prior to receiving evaluation and therapeutic care, a health history and a physical examination will be completed. These procedures are performed to assess your specific conditions, your brain and spine health, and your overall health. These procedures will assist us in determining if any care provided at Live Well Health, PC, is needed, or if any further examinations or studies are needed. In addition, they will help us to determine if any reason to modify your care or provide you with a referral to another healthcare provider. All relevant findings will be reported to you along with a care plan prior to beginning care.

PEMF (Pulsed Electro-Magnetic Frequency) Therapy

PEMF therapy stimulates the body's cells to support your ability to recover from pain or injury. These are low level frequency waves. Different from the harmful ones found with an x-ray machines. When the cells are injured, they lose their ability to move ions because they no longer have a magnetic charge. PEMF therapy helps restore the electromagnetic charge in those cells so they can continue to support the body's recovery process. This therapy is conducted through a heating mat and pillow, in which the user would lay on top of to receive the benefits. Additionally, we also have a shoulder wrap available.

Hot Stone Therapy

This form of massage therapy used to relax the body using flat heated stones. The hot stones activate the parasympathetic nervous system which helps calm any stress, anxiety, and pain. They also promote better sleep. These stones are built into the PEMF mat, and the benefits are received simply by laying on the mat.

Negative Ion Therapy

Negative ions are naturally emitted from the gemstones in the PEMF mat, pillow, and shoulder wrap. Negative ions are molecules in the air that negatively charged electrons. These ions are responsible for keeping the air clean of various allergens, such as mold or pollen found in the air. Negative ions have been shown in research to improve mood and increase oxygen flow to the brain. A person will receive these benefits simply by laying on the PEMF mat, pillow, using the shoulder wrap, and/or the infrared pad.

Far Infrared Therapy

This is another form of light therapy that is naturally expelled from the advanced heating system as well as the hot stone layer of the PEMF mat, pillow, and shoulder wrap. These rays of invisible light penetrate deep into the body and promotes the alleviation of pain, improved blood circulation, reduction of inflammation in joints, and the protection of oxidative stress. The higher the temperature, the greater the level of far-infrared rays. The user receives these benefits simply by laying on the mat, pillow, or by wearing the shoulder wrap. We also have a separate Infrared pad and pillow to include along with the PEMF mat to boost overall benefits received.

Photon Light Therapy

Photon light therapy is an effective therapy that goes deep into the cells to help repair them at the source of their energy: the mitochondria. By boosting the functions of the mitochondria, it empowers the cell to become more energized and efficient in supporting the body's recovery process. This can help reduce pain, inflammation and improve skin complexion. This therapy is built into the PEMF pillow, and the benefits are received simply by exposing the back of the neck to the light.

Teeter Table

Inversion therapy is a technique where you are suspended upside down to stretch the spine and relieve back pain. For these reasons it may be beneficial for people with Chronic lower back pain, poor circulation, sciatica, and scoliosis. Inversion therapy is deemed unsafe for people with certain conditions. The upside-down position increases blood pressure and decreases your heart rate. It also puts significant pressure on your eyeballs. Your doctor may not recommend inversion exercise if you have certain conditions including bone and joint disorders, cardiovascular disorders, or diseases and infections.
